They clinch, leaving a perfectly smooth surface, which lessens the wear and tear of the belting, prevents the cutting and wearing of wooden and leather covered pulleys, and adapts them to belts running at a high rate of speed, as they will not jump or slip in passing over the pulley.

They clamp the fibre of the belt securely, and will not pull out or get loose; this adapts them to rubber and cotton as well as leather belting.

They are made extra heavy from the best quality of Norway Iron, and will not break; they are quickly applied, cheap and durable.

They clamp the ends of belt so firmly that they will not pull out or get loose; and allow belts to be taken off and put on as well as leather belting.

To Butchers and Hide Dealers

We want everything the Butcher has to offer except the meat. In brief, we want his Hides, Calf Skins, Sheep Pelts, Tallow, Bones and Market Waste.

We take pleasure in answering communications from Butchers and Dealers everywhere as to Market Values and Market Prospects. We issue Bulletins to the trade monthly, and as much oftener as the market changes require.

We furnish money to Butchers and Buyers everywhere to pay out for Hides and Skins for us. We advance money to Butchers before they ship their stock to us if they so prefer and can give us satisfactory assurance that if we advance the money we shall get the goods. We guarantee satisfaction on trial shipments.

We pay freight from almost all points and pay Spot Cash.

THE

J. Hyde, Jr. Patent Hydraulic Food Elevator

COMBINED WITH A COOL AIR CIRCULATING REFRIGERATOR.

Fully 50 per cent. of a saving, that is, taking into consideration the convenience and the convenience of more refrigerator shelf space, with less ice and better preservation. A few words from prominent business men who are using this Refrigator:

OFFICE OF NEW ENGLAND THREAD CO., Pawtucket, Dec. 16, 1901.
JOHN HYDE, JR., 73 Carpenter St., City.—Dear Sir: I have had one of your Refrigerators in my house now for over a year, and find it to be the most useful adjunct to my house. It is a VERY great improvement over the so-called "Improved Refrigerators," and works perfectly, responding to the water pressure at the least turn of the faucet. The water-cooler attached is also a great convenience, and on the whole, I could hardly get along without this Refrigerator. I am yours very truly, HENRY A. WARBURTON.

SLATER COTTON CO, Pawtucket, Dec. 12, 1901.
J. HYDE, JR., Esq.—Dear Sir: Will say in regard to inquiry made, that the Refrigerator is working VERY satisfactorily, and am VERY much pleased with it.
Yours truly, V. T. BARBER.

THOMAS EVANS' PATENT GRATE BAR.

TO STEAM USERS

One of the chief features of this grate bar is "A Uniform Air Space," free from sharp angles and curves, the air flowing through this bar meets with the least possible resistance, enabling a large amount of air to pass through with minimum amount of draught. The very large amount of air necessary to form a perfect combustion under ordinary conditions in burning coal demands a carefully designed grate bar, one that will allow free access of air or oxygen to the incandescent fuel and at the same time allow the refuse ashes to fall through freely. The bar contains from 46 to 65 per cent. air space, according to nature of fuel used. To all parties using grate bars, it is worth their serious consideration.

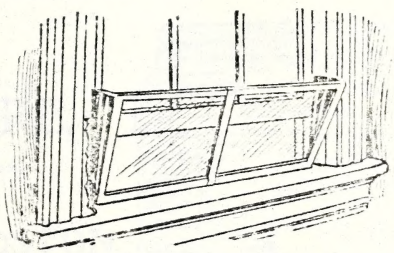

Yours Truly,
